(pdf is the format for all applications)

APPLICATION FORMS: You may download and print official PDQ Application forms at www.siacinc.org, www.faraonline.org or www.securitysales.com.

Applications must be submitted and/or Emailed by April 30, 2018. There is no entry fee. All submission materials become the property of Security Sales & Integration Magazine, and applicants agree that SSI may publish any information contained in the material submitted. All submissions will be judged by representatives of SS&I Magazine, the Security Industry Alarm Coalition (SIAC) and the False Alarm Reduction Association (FARA). Judges decisions are final.

ELIGIBILITY: Each team must consist of an installing company and a monitoring company for electronic security systems located and operating in North America (could be the same company), and a law enforcement representative from the application jurisdiction. If applying as a central station only you must complete the questions contained in the section of the application indicated as "monitoring only". You may submit applications for as many jurisdictions as you wish; limited to one application per jurisdiction per company. Each application must include the official PDQ Application form and all required attachments. Previous winners are not eligible to re-enter for TWO-YEARS from the award date.

THE WINNER RECEIVES:

- Custom-made PDQ Award and/or Certificate
- $1000 check to assist in covering expenses for a representative to attend the ESX Tradeshow for the formal presentation of the award.
- Article about your achievement and a photo of your company receiving the award published in a subsequent issue of Security Sales & Integration Magazine. RUNNER-UPS are also typically featured with a smaller placement.
- Official press release and listing on the SIAC, FARA, IQ and Security Sales and Integration Web sites.
